INGREDIENTS CHECKLIST

[ ] 4 whole eggs Large Farm Eggs (at room temperature)
[ ] 125g (1 cup) All-Purpose or Italian Tipo 00 Flour
[ ] 250ml (1 cup) Filtered Water (Abruzzo tradition uses water instead of milk for lighter crpes!)
[ ] 120g (1.25 cups) Grated Pecorino Abruzzese & Parmigiano-Reggiano Mix (for rolling inside the crespelle)
[ ] 1.2 liters (5 cups) Rich Golden Chicken or Vegetable Brodo (Broth) (piping hot)
[ ] 1/4 tsp nutmeg, 1 tbsp parsley Freshly Grated Nutmeg & Finely Chopped Parsley

STEP-BY-STEP CULINARY INSTRUCTIONS

Step 1: Whisk the Traditional Water-and-Egg Batter [20 mins]

Whisk the 4 eggs with a pinch of salt and freshly grated nutmeg. Sift in the flour, then slowly stream in 1 cup of water while whisking until smooth. Rest the batter for 20 minutes.

Step 2: Swirl Paper-Thin Scrippelle (Crespelle) [10 mins]

Heat an 8-inch nonstick or seasoned crpe pan over medium heat and rub lightly with butter or bacon fat. Pour 3 tablespoons of batter, swirling immediately into a paper-thin circle. Cook 45 seconds per side until lightly golden. Repeat to make 12 crespelle.

Step 3: Fill & Roll with Pecorino-Parmigiano [3 mins]

Sprinkle 1.5 tablespoons of the grated Pecorino and Parmigiano blend across each warm crespella and roll up tightly like a cigar.

Step 4: Drown in Steaming Golden Brodo (’Mbusse)

Arrange 3 rolled crespelle in each warm soup bowl. Ladle piping-hot golden broth over the top so the cheese melts inside the delicate rolls. Serve immediately.

CHEF’S PRO TIPS & STORAGE

* Why Abruzzese Scrippelle Use Water Instead of Milk: Using water in the batter makes the crpes ultra-light and porous so they soak up the savory broth without falling apart.
* In Teramo (Abruzzo), Scrippelle ’Mbusse ("wet crpes") is the crown jewel of Sunday and holiday tables-yet it uses the simplest budget ingredients in the kitchen!
